Mina searched every public index she could access.

2

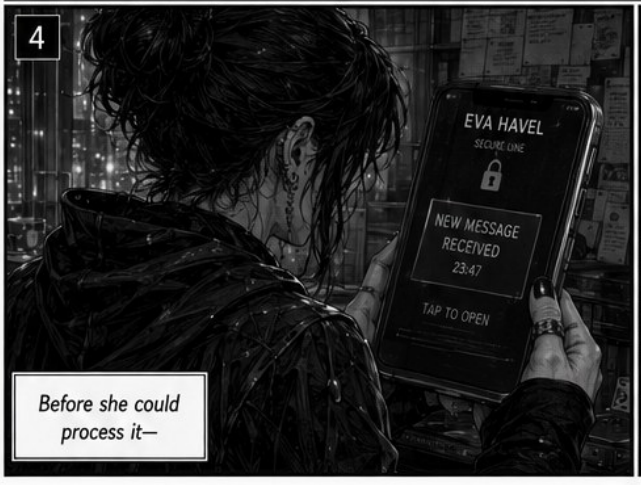

Nothing.
So she went deeper.

3

And found things the surface was never meant to hide.

4

Before she could process it—

Analog enough?
I pulled this before they locked me out.
Why come to me?
Because the patients started dreaming the same dream.

That's what the clinic staff called it when no one important was listening.
Castle fever.
You handled patient scans?
Clinic systems. Side effect reports. Blood matching.
And Hemocode?
You saw that word?
